60 YEARS OF CARING

The Son of a Buffalo Hunter, Dr. William R. Livingston

Livingston Memorial Visiting Nurse Association’s namesake was a California native. Born in Oxnard, December 1, 1870, Dr. William R. Livingston was the son of a well known Nebraska plains buffalo hunter and early California pioneer, Robert G. Livingston.

Robert came west to California at age fifteen in 1854. He first settled in Placerville, then known as “Hangtown,” and later moved to Ventura County in 1869.

Dr. Livingston spent his boyhood in Port Hueneme and was awarded his M.D. from the University of Chicago in 1893. He interned at Chicago’s Emergency German, and St. Elizabeth’s Hospitals. During 1895-96 he was in charge of the Mexican Railroad Hospital in Tampico, Mexico until he contracted yellow fever and was forced to return to the United States. In 1898-99 he took post graduate work in various medical centers in Europe where he learned to use the “twilight sleep” method in obstetrics.

It is estimated that Dr. Livingston brought more babies into the world in the Oxnard area than any other doctor. In many instances, he delivered three generations of babies within the same family.

A Woman on a Mission, Mrs. Julien Hathaway

The Visiting Nurse Association (VNA) was founded in 1947 by Mrs. Julien Hathaway, a public health nurse from New York City where the VNA originated. Seeing a need for home health services in Ventura County, she recruited the support of various community and philanthropic organizations. The VNA began with one nurse and soon after Mrs. Hathaway moved on to other public health projects saying, “…if an organization is worth living, then the community will carry it through.”
In 1981, the Foundation Board engaged a representative group of Ventura County people knowledgeable about health care to help us determine where they and we felt the most pressing unmet health care needs existed. Our consensus was that home health was the fastest growing and most uninsured and underinsured health need in our county.

Well, our Foundation’s mission became more clear.

The Foundation Board approached the Visiting Nurse Association’s Board, who enthusiastically took the Livingston name, thus beginning a loose affiliation which has lasted through the years. Needless to say, Livingston Memorial Visiting Nurse Association has exceeded the Foundation Board’s expectations year after year.

As many of you know, Livingston Memorial Visiting Nurse Association now provides the full range of home health care including, Medicare certified hospice. Our subsidiary, Gold Coast CareGivers, provides much needed day and night home care needs.

On a personal note, over the past several years, I have been with two of my closest friends during their time on hospice. Although tragic for me, the comfort and time for planning and togetherness for the family was a revelation. I quickly learned that loving care and compassion, as well as the technical expertise, are the true essence of Livingston Hospice.

Recently, my wife and I benefited from the quality, professional care of a Livingston nurse, physical therapist and Gold Coast care giver. Until you have truly experienced the loving care from these wonderful people, it is difficult to judge. We found Livingston Memorial Visiting Nurse Association and Gold Coast CareGivers “superior” in all respects.

In closing I wish to thank all of you who have been so generous over all the years. You have my love and gratitude.

Charles M. Hair, MD
Chairman of the Board
We are (Livingston) Family

Dr. Charles M. Hair was Dr. William R. Livingston’s physician in his final year.

“My father [Walter Hoffman] was delivered by Dr. Livingston. Dr. Rey, Dr. Livingston’s protégé, was supposed to deliver me, but he was late and Henrietta Farrel, R.N., did the duty. She was my idol and I followed her lead and trained to be a nurse.”

Carol H. Hambleton, R.N., Board of Directors 2001 to present.

Lynne Martson, Director of Gold Coast Care Givers, is the daughter of Paul Wolven, BOD, 1983 to 1999.

Candice Bartosh Saucedo, Clinical Support Clerk; and Valerie Bartosh, Livingston Hospice

“Dr. Hair delivered my mom in 1955 and was to deliver me in 1978, but he went out of town while my mom was in labor. He was the primary doctor throughout her pregnancy. Kind of a funny coincidence, he was an important part of [at least] two Livingston employees lives.”

Thomas P. Pecht, Board of Directors 2007 to present, and Jeffery D. Paul, Board of Directors 1999 to present, both took their first breaths after a whack on the fanny from Dr. Hair.

1995 Former State Senator Jack O’Connell makes a house call with Home Health Aide, Phyllis Harma.
The future of home health care has deep roots

W e have come a long way over the years, constantly adjusting to the changes in the health needs of people in Ventura County. Over the last 20 years, as hospitals have progressively shortened the time patients stay in the acute setting, the demand for our services has increased dramatically. We also saw a growing need for services with the advent of medically guided end of life care, hospice. Livingston Memorial Visiting Nurse Association is now the largest provider of home health care and hospice services in the county. Throughout these changes and challenges, we have been, and remain, the only provider of home care for all citizens, irrespective of their ability to pay.

Livingston is blessed with a strong team of skilled professionals, including registered nurses; physical, occupational and speech therapists, licensed clinical social workers, registered dietitians, home health aides, and personal care certified nursing aides. By employing a diverse and comprehensive home health staff, we can assure the local community of high quality care delivered in the comfort of their own homes.

Change is in the Air

The imminent senior population explosion brought on by the aging baby boom generation is just around the corner. The way health care has been offered in the past will need to be redesigned. At Livingston, we are changing to meet the demands of this new challenge.

Let’s talk about the future.

It is simple to see that this growth will lead to a future increase in the number of patients needing our care. Livingston is responding by developing and transitioning staff to meet an increase in demand for our vital services.

While Livingston staff is keeping their running shoes on, a fundamental change in the organization of the system of health care in our nation is rapidly coming. Health care of the future will be centered in the home. The baby boom population will be living longer, and there will be a larger proportion of seniors living with a chronic disease. Premature death will be less common, and prevention and management of long term illness will be the norm. We will control diabetes, manage clotting, adjust congestive heart failure fluid status, care for infections, heal wounds, improve joint mobility, and equip living areas for better function—all with the help of professional health care providers that come into our homes.

Although doctors’ offices and hospitals will remain, their role will be more limited. Technology will advance so that what we now need a hospital to do will be brought into our homes. Telehealth is here now and will continue to expand. Methods for intravenous therapy and new drugs have made home treatment an increasing option for many.

The future center of health care will be the professional team in the home. This transition is underway now, with home health care on a national level and locally at Livingston. We have the staff in place to manage chronic disease right in the patient’s home. In an ironic way, we are evolving back to what Dr. Livingston did—providing care to patients in the comfort of their own homes.

— Dr. Dial, President/CEO

Livingston nurses don’t climb the Canejo Grade— we are already on the top!

Jeanette Cunningham, R.N.
Director of Patient Care Services

AS HOME HEALTH care providers, our patients don’t come to our facilities—we go to them. Most of our patients, about two thirds, are served by staff out of our main Ventura office on Eastman Avenue and a third out of our Thousand Oaks office on Long Court. That’s a census of 100 to 120 patients being seen by staff from our Thousand Oaks office.

Our Thousand Oaks office is bustling with busy nurses, home health aides, physical and occupational therapists, registered dieticians, and care givers on their way to care for patients. On any given day one of our nurses may be helping a patient manage their diabetes in Simi Valley, a therapist might be helping a patient with their rehabilitation after a hip or knee replacement surgery in Newbury Park, or one of our wound specialists may be looking after a patient’s post operative surgery in Moorpark to make sure they are healing without infection or complications.

Sometimes people are surprised when I tell them that all of Livingston’s programs and services are offered throughout the County. Like all of Livingston’s staff, we see most of our patients in the comfort of their own homes, we also see patients at board and care homes, and assisted living facilities.

Our east county team is part of the same Livingston family that serves the whole of Ventura County. We’ve got a wonderful camaraderie of supportive, personable staff that genuinely care about each other and their patients.

Wherever you live in Ventura County—from Ventura to Westlake Village and out to Piru, — you can depend on us to provide quality, compassionate home health care.
Livingston Memorial VNA gratefully acknowledges the following individuals, foundations, local businesses, institutions and community organizations for their generosity. It's because of the continued loyalty of our many supporters that Livingston is able to continue its mission of providing high quality home health and hospice services to the residents of Ventura County, regardless of their ability to pay. We apologize for any omissions and/or errors. Please call (805) 642-0239 to update us of any changes. We appreciate your support!
